

BIOGRAPHY OF XAVIER LARNAUDIE-EIFFEL

Updated October 2018

Xavier Larnaudie-Eiffel has been Deputy Chief Executive of CNP Assurances since 2007.

Xavier Larnaudie-Eiffel graduated from the Bordeaux Institute of Political Studies and is an alumnus of the National School of Administration (1982).

A Sub-Prefect until 1986, he joined the Directorate of the Treasury, where he performed a range of roles until 1993, covering international and European monetary affairs. Appointed advisor to the Minister of the Economy in 1993, responsible for European and international affairs, he became Deputy Director for the Treasury in 1994, with particular focus on regulation and supervision of the insurance sector.

From 1995 to 2000, Xavier Larnaudie-Eiffel was Head of Cabinet to the European Commissioner for Economic and Monetary Affairs. In that role, he was essentially dedicated to setting up the euro. In March 2000, he became Vice-Chair of Solving International, responsible for the financial and banking sectors for Europe and Brazil.

A member of the management board of CNP Assurances since 2003, he has been Deputy Chief Executive of the group since 10 July 2007. Xavier Larnaudie-Eiffel chairs the Personal Insurance Committee at Insurance Europe (Brussels) and the Life Committee at the Federation of French Insurers (FFA).
